Marlpool weekly News 9.5.25

This week

This week we all enjoyed a wonderful afternoon at the Intergenerational Project which took place at Heanor Miners' Welfare. The children loved learning three new dances based on VE Day celebrations and then they had a drink and a chat with some of the elderly visitors. Photos from the event can be viewed on our gallery section of the school website.

Reception children continued their Spring themed art by creating a beautiful collage of a cherry blossom tree. Year 1 children began their Lowry City Collage by learning about perspective and painting the background for

Creative Homework

Just a reminder that next week is the hand in date for our recycle project. Children were tasked with the challenge to make something purposeful from recycling waste in the home. Children can bring their projects into school to show us or can send a photo in through our school office email.

As part of learning we have read the plastic bottle, the cardboard box and somebody swallowed Stanley. The children also chose to make a sensory bottle or a grass head, today the children will bring their in-school projects home.

VE Day Celebrations

It was so lovely to see the efforts made by the children wearing red, white and blue yesterday. We listened to songs by Vera Lynn, learnt about what VE day means to our country, coloured in Union Jack flags and held a two minutes' silence. All the children showed R for Respectful during our morning celebrations.

Next week (12.5.25)

In Class 1, we will be listening to a classic tale told in the Victorian era: "The three wishes". In maths, Year 1 will begin learning about fractions and Reception will move onto numbers above 10.

Class 2 will be consolidating their learning before moving on to new topics.
